

PART V

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am indebted to the wise counsel and efforts of all Members of the Review Group – Mr Irving Koo (Deputy Convenor of the Review Group), Mrs Pamela Chan, Mrs Stella Lau, Prof Wong Yuk-shan, and Dr Robin Cheung – without which the Review could not have completed within the time frame set by the Government. I am also thankful for the spirit and detail of the discussions with senior management of HKIEd, the supplementary information it provided, and the chance to listen to its student, staff and alumni representatives. The contributions from various education bodies, which responded to our invitations to provide views on the issues facing the Review, are much appreciated.

The Review Report gives particular attention to insights from international experience in assessing how best to advance the quality of Teacher Education in Hong Kong, and here we have drawn heavily on the consultancy support of Dr Jane Morrison. I am most grateful for her input to drafting generally, and to Chapter 2 in particular.

Special thanks must go to Mr Michael Stone and his staff at the UGC Secretariat for the invaluable assistance in coordinating the Review and producing the Report. Last but not least, I express a particular appreciation to Mrs Laura Cha, Chairman of UGC, for her support throughout the whole review process.
